Select the form you want to open and fill out:

You can either fill in the form then save it, or save the form then fill it out.

The form will open in a new window and you can fill in the necessary information.

A screenshot of an Internet Explorer browser window. The address bar shows a URL from "http://www.gadrightmedia.com". The page content includes a paragraph explaining the Crime Victim's Rights Act and a list of five options with checkboxes for selection. The options are: "I would like to receive notice of scheduled court hearings as well as changes in the court schedule.", "I would like to consult with a Prosecutor regarding the case.", "I would like to receive notification of the Defendant's conviction.", "I would like to address the court at Defendant's sentencing.", and "I would like to receive notice of the final disposition of this case." The instruction "[Please check applicable boxes]" is placed above the list.

At the end for the form select the button "SAVE". You can save the file in whatever folder and with whatever name you like.
