

Prime Time Code of Conduct

We promote free expression and open communication, however we expect all members to be respectful of others when participating in Prime Time activities.

We value our members and will serve our clients and those who help us to serve our clients with respect, sensitivity, and confidentiality. We expect the same collaborative efforts from our members to one another.

We will not allow any kind of discriminatory behavior, harassment, bullying, or victimization of anyone participating in Prime Time activities.

In an effort to insure our members understand and commit to our code of conduct each new member will sign off on the below standards when they fill out their membership application.

Members Standards of Behavior include:

- Be respectful of others in speech and behavior
- Take responsibility for personal behavior, attitude, and actions
- Promote civility through interactions
