

Media contact: Jill Harrell, 231-547-2931, jharrell@wojan.com

Jeff Wright Joins Wojan Window & Door as Regional Sales Manager

Charlevoix, Mich. (August 2012) – Wojan Window & Door, the Charlevoix, Mich.-based commercial window and door manufacturer, has hired Jeff Wright into the position of Regional Sales Manager for the Mid-Atlantic area. He joins the company after more than 30 years in the window and building materials business.

Wright earned his Bachelor's degree from the University of Connecticut and throughout his career, has held various sales and management positions in the window and building materials industry. His experience in the manufacturing, distribution and contracting sectors brings a well-rounded and integrated understanding of the market and the customer's needs.

"We are excited to have someone with Jeff's talent and experience joining our sales team," states Rick Pagano, Wojan VP of Sales. "Our belief is that Jeff will be the catalyst for growth in the Mid-Atlantic and other parts of the eastern seaboard. His involvement will only add to the sales growth the company has been able to enjoy recently."

In this newly created position, Wright will be responsible for overseeing all sales activity in the Mid-Atlantic region for Wojan Window & Door.

About Wojan Window & Door Corp.

Founded in 1952, Wojan Window & Door Corp. manufactures custom commercial aluminum windows and sliding glass doors from facilities in Charlevoix and Coldwater, Michigan. The diverse product line is rated for a variety of commercial and architectural applications. Wojan is an approved supplier for Hilton® Worldwide and the Marriott® CFRST brands, a member of AAMA (American Architectural Manufacturers Association), and a registered provider with AIA/CES (American Institute of Architects Continuing Education System). Visit www.wojan.com to learn more.

###